Fertcare Level C

Fertiliser environmental skills for Advisors who provide fertiliser recommendations

Overview

Fertcare Level C training covers the detailed and complex knowledge of environmental issues, including the use of a fertiliser environmental risk assessment and management methodology.

As a business owner it makes sense to have an agronomist who can give quality advice and recommend the right fertilisers to suit the situation. Having an advisor with these skills gives peace of mind and ensures that your fertiliser sales are being made with the most up-to-date knowledge and skills required to responsibly recommend fertilisers.

Who would benefit?

- Experienced Advisors ready for complex material providing detailed nutrition advice based on soil and plant analysis

Pre-requisites, potential students must

- Have completed fertiliser recommendations in the last 6 months
- Have significant industry experience (generally greater than 2 years)
- Have completed a significant number of recommendations prior to commencement

Please contact our team to discuss your situation if you are unsure, or if you would like opportunities to discuss the above. Fertcare Level C training meets the requirements for AgSafe re-accreditation and is a pre-requisite to becoming a Fertcare Accredited Advisor.

Learning Outcomes

- Understanding environmental and food safety issues
- Use of the Fertiliser Environmental Stewardship Review methodology (FESR) – risk assessment
- Principles of sampling
- Understanding regulatory framework and label requirements
- Awareness of OH&S and stewardship issues in transport, storage, handling and application of fertilisers

Delivery

Fertcare Level C is now available online, scheduled regularly and provided in small groups to promote high levels of engagement amongst our students and trainers. 3 mandatory webinars scheduled one week apart are included in this online delivery method. This may be offered in workshop (face to face) delivery mode in the future, or on request when minimum student numbers are met.
